

FEB 1952 51-4AA

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

CLASSIFICATION

SECRET

50X1-HUM

SECURITY INFORMATION

INFORMATION REPORT

REPORT

CD NO.

COUNTRY Korea

DATE DISTR. 30 January 1953

SUBJECT North Korean Naval Headquarters and Subordinate Units

NO. OF PAGES 3

DATE OF INFO.

NO. OF ENCLS. (LISTED BELOW)

PLACE ACQUIRED

SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. 50X1-HUM

THIS DOCUMENT CONTAINS INFORMATION AFFECTING THE NATIONAL DEFENSE OF THE UNITED STATES, WITHIN THE MEANING OF TITLE 18, SECTIONS 793 AND 794, OF THE U.S. CODE, AS AMENDED. ITS TRANSMISSION OR REVELATION OF ITS CONTENTS TO OR RECEIPT BY AN UNAUTHORIZED PERSON IS PROHIBITED BY LAW. THE REPRODUCTION OF THIS FORM IS PROHIBITED.

THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 50X1-HUM

North Korean Naval Headquarters

50X1-HUM

1. [redacted] the North Korean Naval Headquarters, with 150 men, was in caves in T'ap-tong, north of On-dong (125-50, 39-06) (YD-4531). The commanding officer was Vice Admiral HAN Il-mu (7281/2480/2976), the chief of staff was Commodore KIM Won-mu (6855/0337/2976), and the director of field training was Captain KIM Chong-sok (6855/1350/6932). They were all members of the North Korean Labor Party.
2. The table of organization of the North Korean Naval Headquarters included the following offices and personnel: the finance department, with two officers and one enlisted man; the construction department; the personnel department; the troops disposition department, with two officers and one enlisted man; the navigation department; the surgeon's office, with three officers and two nurses; the communications department, with 5 officers and 15 enlisted men and women; the field training department, with three officers and one enlisted man; the security department, with two officers and one enlisted man; the rear service department; the operations department, with three officers and one enlisted man; and the staff office. The naval headquarters also directed the activities of the Naval Academy, also called the 776 Naval Unit, the Chinnamp'o Naval Base Command, also called the 587 Naval Unit, and the Wonsan Naval Base Command, also called the 597 Naval Unit.

CLASSIFICATION

SECRET

50X1-HUM

STATE	X	NAVY	X	NSRB
ARMY	X	AIR	X	FBI

SECRET

50X1-HUM

-2-

Chinnamp'o Naval Base Command

50X1-HUM

3. [] the Chinnamp'o Base Command, with 200 men, was in trenches at YC-086887, near Chinnamp'o (125-24, 38-44) (YC-0989). The commanding officer was Rear Admiral KIM Ch'ang-tök (6855/2490/1795), a member of the North Korean Labor Party. The base command included a headquarters staff office, a rear service department, a political department, and a security department.
4. The table of organization of the headquarters staff office included the following offices and personnel: the operations section, with three officers and one enlisted man; the troop disposition section, headed by Captain SÖ Tök-ch'öl (1776/1795/0811), with two officers; the navigation section, headed by Commander KIM Kun-söng (6855/2704/2052), with 3 officers and 17 enlisted men; the surgeon's office, with four officers and three enlisted men; the signal section, with 10 officers and 60 enlisted men; the construction section, with two officers and two enlisted men; and the personnel section, with one officer and one enlisted man.
5. The table of organization of the rear service department included the following offices and personnel: the pier garrison section, with 4 officers and 16 enlisted men; the organization and planning section, with one officer and one enlisted man; the food and clothing section, with two officers and two enlisted men; the mine and torpedo section, with 4 officers and 17 enlisted men; the finance section, with one officer and one enlisted man; the administrative section, with three officers and seven enlisted men; and the transportation section, with two officers and five enlisted men.
6. The table of organization of the political department included the following officers: the committee chairman, the director of the Democratic Youth Alliance, the director of indoctrination, the director of public culture, and the public information officer.
7. [] the Chinnamp'o Base Command had one steel, 30-ton, 70-horsepower boat called the ONSUNG-HO. The boat's engine was being rebored. The mission of the Chinnamp'o Base Command was coastal defense of the Chinnamp'o area and mine laying around Ch'o-do (124-52, 38-30) (XC-6363). The unit had 20, 1-ton, Soviet-made, magnetic mines on hand. [] it was ordered that mines be laid immediately. This order was carried out.¹ [] a warning was issued to all personnel to the effect that the coastal areas were heavily laid with land mines.

50X1-HUM

50X1-HUM

50X1-HUM

50X1-HUM

50X1-HUM

North Korean Naval Academy

50X1-HUM

8. [] the North Korean Naval Academy, with 320 cadets, was at YD-454317, north of On-dong. The academy was commanded by Rear Admiral KIM Kwang-pin (6855/0342/1755), a member of the North Korean Labor Party. The 3-year course included instruction in navigation, engineering, gunnery, naval tactics, mathematics, physics, and communications. The table of organization of the Naval Academy included the following offices and personnel: the education department, with 30 officers and 10 enlisted men; the surgeon's office, with three officers and six enlisted men; the rear services department, with four officers and seven enlisted men; the military affairs department, with three officers and one enlisted man; and the political department, with three officers and one enlisted man.

SECRET

SECRET

[REDACTED] 50X1-HUM

-3-

Chinnamp'o Maritime Business Station

50X1-HUM

[REDACTED] 9. [REDACTED] the Chinnamp'o Maritime Business Station was in a cave at YC-091897, near Chinnamp'o. The most important mission of the station was the transportation of supplies and troops to the front. It had 2 motor boats, 11 sail boats, and 3 lighters. 50X1-HUM

1. [REDACTED] Comment. [REDACTED] a mine laying operation was originated at the Chinnamp'o Naval Base [REDACTED] 50X1-HUM

50X1-HUM

SECRET